

PRESS RELEASE

HIGH POINT - Kingdom Athletes, a U-13 AAU basketball team, has just finished a very successful first season, culminating in a top 5 finish in the country at the AAU D-2 nationals in Memphis. At the nationals, the team finished the week with seven wins and one loss including a victory over the defending national champions. Overall, the team won 31 games against 11 losses and won three regular season tournaments.

The team is coached by Chad Wilkerson, former Conference Player of the Year at Oral Roberts University. Coach Wilkerson also had a successful professional career in Europe. Tyreck Knox, a former front court standout at Campbell University, is the team's Assistant Coach.

The team's motto is "Basketball Excellence for the Kingdom of God". Players learn to be successful at the highest level of their sport while growing in character and in their spiritual life. Kingdom Athletes also supports each player, as needed, in the areas of academics, strength and conditioning, and nutrition.

The U-13 squad consisted of the following athletes:

Michael Bowman	Salisbury, NC
Mike Connor	Salisbury, NC
Dock Corpening	Salisbury, NC
Sadeeq Bello	Greensboro, NC
Drew Harper	Greensboro, NC
Nick Alley	Greensboro, NC
K.J. Langley, Jr.	High Point, NC
Lamar Raynard	High Point, NC
Spencer Wilson	High Point, NC
Jack Gavigan	High Point, NC

The team begins Coach's Evaluations in September as it forms up its eighth grade/U-14 roster for its second year of competition. For more information, contact Kingdom Athletes at www.kingdomathletes.com